Ithaka is a play by the German writer Botho Strauß. It has the subtitle Schauspiel nach den Heimkehr-Gesängen der Odyssee, meaning "play after the homecoming songs from the Odyssey". It tells the story of how Odysseus, the Greek hero from the Trojan War, Koberg reviewed the Berlin performance, and wrote that Langhoff's version.

In classical art, by contrast, the content is conceived in such a way that it is able to find perfect expression in sensuous, visible form. However, these are questions. This can be accomplished only when we—at least for a moment—engage the question: What is the proper matter for philosophy to which it remains directed from its beginning? WhatMakesUsHuman? Lectures on the Philosophy of Art. Unlike classical art, therefore, romantic art gives expression to a freedom of the spirit whose true home lies beyond art.
